Justice Holmes Resigns Post In Supreme Court

Grand Old Man Of Court Lays Aside Judicial Robes Today

JUSTICE NEARING HIS 91st BIRTHDAY

Bows To Inevitable, He Says In Tendering His Resignation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—"The time has come and I bow to the inevitable."

With this simple statement, Oliver Wendell Holmes, grand old man of American jurisprudence, laid aside his judicial robes today and resigned from the bench of the United States Supreme Court.

Nearing the 91st anniversary of his birth, he has found this winter the duties of the benth too onerous for his advancing years and failing health, and he chose thus to go simply while he could, rather than attempt to carry on against insuperable difficulties.

Assisted Yesterday

It was noticed in the court yesterday during decisions that Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes had to assist him gently to his accustomed place on the bench. But the venerable white-haired justice delivered two of the courts opinions, nevertheless.

President Hoover made the announcement of Justice Holme's resignation regretfully at the White

PA NEWC OBSERVES

It seems as if Old Man Weather got his seasons mixed a trifle this morning, for the day he turned up resembled spring or summer far more than it did winter. But—well, no, we don't care how long he forgets!

Speaking of the weather, the mid-year commencement class this month won't find it so much different graduating in the winter if the prevailing temperatures keep up. Diploma-time for them is near.

County Poor Director Hogue, besides being an efficient handler of men, must also be a shoeman. At his office is the county's children's shoeroom where a large stock of footwear is carried. There he fits the youngsters and provides the shoes. Now County Commissioner Conners, who for years has served in that business, is able to apply his experience to the shoeroom problems.

In a few weeks' time the city's public schools will be undergoing another shift. The semester end comes toward the close of the month. Examinations come before that.

Hospitals Are Great Factor In Recovery Of Many Patients

To the football fan who has followed the game for some time it doesn't seem so long since "Bill" Cleland was playing the line for Westminster college. To the soldier it doesn't seem so long since Major W. D. Cleland came back from France where he had been located near another line, the front line of battle. Football and soldiering have both had their day in his life but the spirit that carried him towards the goal posts and through the welter of blood in field hospitals still characterizes him in his practice of medicine and surgery. In that practice he utilizes the hospitals and said today of the Jameson Memorial hospital:

"Physicians and surgeons can go so far in their work of restoring people to health and strength. Beyond that point Nature must be relied upon, but proper care is an ally which Nature must have in her work."

"It is possible to treat people in their homes of course, but it is so much more efficient, so much better to put them in a hospital where they get skilled care twenty-four hours of the day. In the old days operations were performed in homes, sometimes by the light of an oil lamp under conditions that were far from sterile. Today, thanks to the Jameson Memorial hospital we can operate under the most favorable conditions. Sterility in the operating room, modern implements, proper lighting, and post-operative care in the hospital rooms that mean so much to the patients' recovery.

"A patient recovers more quickly and more certainly in a hospital than he possibly could at home. To the unthinking it might seem contradictory that a physician should want his patient to recover quickly but it is so. They want for their patients the very best care possible and this can be obtained only in a hospital.

"Keeping the Jameson Memorial hospital open means so much to this community that to suggest that it must close because of a deficit of $60,000 is to suggest that the people of New Castle and Lawrence county do not want proper care during sickness. They do want it and I feel confident the campaign for funds will be successful.

LOCAL POST OFFICE SITE COSTS $199,000

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Uncle Sam will pay exactly $199,000 for the site of New Castle's post office on the Diamond. The treasury department today mailed out letters to the owners of the various parcels contained in the site notifying them that their prices had been accepted, and at the same time revealed that the cost of the five tracts will total $199,000.

The prices of the parcels were listed by the treasury as Smith, $8,800; Clark $27,000; Kulkin, $37,200; McCormick, $52,500; and Wallace, $73,500.

It was said at the treasury that as soon as the owners have signed and returned contracts for their land, the justice department will be instructed to investigate the titles.

Checks will be sent to the owners as soon as the justice department reports that the titles are clear.

The total appropriation for the New Castle project amounts to $525,000 and the expenditure of $199,000 for the land leaves a balance of $326,000 for the construction and equipping of the new building.

Mayor's Fund Is Near Point Of Depletion

Only Enough Money Left To Last Two Weeks At Present Rate Of Expenditure

NUMBER AIDED ALMOST DOUBLED

With a balance of only $2,314 remaining in the treasury of the Mayor's Relief Committee, a serious situation faces the body, it was brought out at the meeting held last evening in the city council chambers.

The average number of persons aided so far this month has been nearly double that of December, and each day now finds new applications for assistance. December's average was approximately 42 per day. Last week it was around 75, and this week will find this number increased, as approximately 50 new applicants were registered yesterday in addition to the number regularly receiving aid.

The amount of money being expended at the present time is approximately what had been figured on when the activities of the Mayor's Committee were started late in the fall, namely $1,2000 per week,

France-Britain May Seek Longer Debt Moratorium

Great Britain And France Ready To Ask For Five-Year Debt Holiday Of U. S.

Belligerent Congress Would Have To Approve Of Further Debt Extension

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Great Britain And France, acting jointly, are preparing to ask the United States for a five-year suspension of their debt payments to the treasury, according to reports circulated today in usually well-informed quarters.

Exact form and substance of the request for debt relief probably will await the conclusion of the Lausanne conference, now set for January 25, at which the whole debts-reparations situation is to be thoroughly discussed. The United States will not be represented at Lausanne, at least not officially.

Germany's repudiation of future reparations payments has served to accelerate the Franco-British move for debt relief. Both have been paying their semi-annual obligations to the treasury with funds received

Arkansas Voters At Polls Today

WILL BE FIRST WOMAN ELECTED

(International News Service)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 12—Arkansas voters went to the polls today with political observers agreeing they will set a precedent in American history by electing a woman to the United States senate for the first time.

The woman is Mrs. Thaddeus H. Caraway, widow of the late senator although she has hardly lifted a finger to win today's special election it was conceded it is extremely unlikely she will be defeated. Arkansas has never elected a senator who was not a nominee of the Democratic party and Mrs. Caraway is the Democratic candidate.

Mrs. Caraway has been the appointive senator from Arkansas since shortly after her husband's death.

Break Window In Local Restaurant

Two Young Men Are Given An Opportunity Of Paying For The Damage Done

"Nice looking pair this morning", remarked Mayor Charles B. Mayne to James O'Rourke and Charles Hetzel, young men held on disorderly conduct charge, "But I'm surprised that you were not here the first morning."

After this salutation, Mayor Mayne proceeded to question the young men, whom the evidence shown on the report of the police had been at the Walford restaurant on the public square last night, had been drinking and got into an argument with those in charge of the restaurant and broke a large plate glass window valued at $16.30 with a whiskey bottle they had in their possession.

Manager of the restaurant stated that these young men had been drinking from a bottle and had been put out of the place when this was noticed and as they became boisterous. They were trying to get back in when the damage was done.

Mayor Mayne questioned the manager at some length as to whether or not they permitted patrons to bring in their own liquor and the answers given implied that people were put out when found to be drinking liquor.

Mayor Mayne directed that the young men be held until they could make an effort to raise the money and pay for the damage done, after which they were to be released.

The orchestra will be assisted by George E. Richardson, concertmeister; Thomas H. Webber, organist; George F. Anthony, tenor; and Richard E. Johns, baritone, in a series of numbers.

The program will include some of the finest orchestra numbers from the old masters, in addition to popular tunes, and will be varied by the vocal and organ selections.

It is hoped to have the Cathedral auditorium well filled for the occasion. No admission will be charged, but an offering will be taken, the entire proceeds of which will be turned over to the Mayor's Relief Fund.

All Cooperate

There is a genuine spirit of cooperation manifest in the work of arranging the concert. Nobody has refused to do a share of the work and the latest recruits to the concert banner are the members of the Service Division of the Cathedral.

It was requested of them that they be present to take up the collection. "Sure we will," said Harry Pierce who heads the Service Division. "We want to aid in putting the concert over and if our share is to take up the collection, we'll be there."

PINCHOT AND GRUNDY CONFERENCE STARTS POLITICAL TONGUES

but more seriously considered, is that Governor Pinchot will oppose Senator James J. Davis for his seat.

Senator Grundy's visit was an unheralded, informal call. He did not discuss the purpose of the visit and word from the executive mansion was that "nothing of importance was discussed."

While the Governor is expected to entertain hopes that the national convention will swing to him after deadlock over renomination of President Hoover, he still is believed to eye a senatorial toga with the same wistfulness which led him to enter the primary fight in 1926.

At that time his entry resulted in the defeat of Senator George Wharton Pepper and election of William S. Vare, his most active political enemy.

Seeks Support

Those who side with the "Pinchot for the Senate" story assert that the lesson of 1926 will keep the Governor from being a candidate unless he can secure support of the Republican state organization.

Senator Grundy also is reported to be interested in the possible candidacy of Henry P. Fletcher, Greencastle. Fletcher spent his entire active life in the diplomatic service and when he resigned while ambassador to Italy was believed considering active participation in Pennsylvania politics.

There is considerable doubt that Senator Davis will be able to get the support of either the Allegheny or Philadelphia organizations, but no doubt whatever that he will be a candidate for the renomination. One of his opponents is expected to be James M. Beek, one of the state's most famous attorneys and leader of the Philadelphia delegation in congress. Beck is expected to become a candidate on a platform favoring modification of the Eighteenth amendment.

Butler Eyeing Seat

Another believed to be eyeing Davis' seat is General Smedley D. Butler whose retirement from the Marine corps was considered a preliminary step to entering politics.

George Woodward, lone independent in the Philadelphia delegation in the State Senate, desires a promotion. He already has queried the election bureau on just how one goes about circulating petitions for a state wide office.

Lurking in the background of the long list anxious to enter the race is the possible threat of former Senator W. S. Vare who may get into the fight on a "vindication" platform. Vare was elected in 1926 but was refused a seat in the Senate because of alleged excessive campaign expenditures.

Should the present field of contenders widen or even remain unchanged the Governor's chances, even without the support of the state organization, are conceded to be at least equal to those of his opponents.

PREPARE TO TRY AMERICANS FOR ISLAND MURDER

to return first degree murder indictments Friday. They planned to ask the death penalty at the trial which probably will be started early in February. The grand jury findings, however will determine the exact charge.

Defense plans were veiled in secrecy. Attorneys Montgomery Winn and Frank Thompson interviewed prospective witnesses as preparations were begun to combat the "honor slaying" charge.

Tension Eased.

Easing of an ominous tension in Honolulu seemed indicated by action of Gov. Lawrence M. Judd and Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, naval commandant, who, after a conference, restored shore leave privileges to enlisted men of the army and navy.

A special committee of territorial legislators instructed Robert Shingle, president of the senate, and Roy Vitousek, speaker of the house of representatives, to send a letter to delegate Victor Stewart K. Houston in Washington, requesting him to obtain copies of all documents passing between the United States navy and Hawaiian officials relative to the Massie case.

Gov. Judd Silent.

The committee wanted to view all official papers not only in the Massie case, but in other incidents that led up to it.

Gov. Judd maintained a silence today on the situation after previously declaring that Honolulu authorities were in full command of the situation. Additional forces of the army and navy were held in readiness to patrol the city in event rioting should disturb the present menacing calm.

MAYOR'S FUND IS NEAR POINT OF DEPLETION

and with only $2300 remaining in the treasury, this will be exhausted in two weeks time.

The committee has been most economical in their expenditures, which have been kept as low as possible. Everything dispensed by them has been secured at wholesale rates, or has been donated.

Expect Peak Soon

It is expected that additional applications for assistance will be received during the next two weeks, as the peak last winter was not reached until the latter part of January or the early part of February.

Many contributors have held off giving money they had previously subscribed, believing there was adequate money in the treasury. This has been true up to the present time, but the balance has been rapidly wiped out during the past two weeks, and is now near the point of exhaustion.

If the treasury is depleted, it will be impossible to carry on the work, as there is no person on the Mayor's Committee who could underwrite any deficit which might occur.

President James K. Love urges all who have made subscriptions to pay them promptly, and asks those who have never before contributed, to be as liberal as possible.

Relief in all forms has steadily grown. The report of the committee in charge of dispensing the soup shows that 440 gallons of soup will be handed out today, a new high point.

Many Would Suffer

It would cause untold suffering among several thousand people, many of them little children, if the Mayor's committee were forced to suspend operations, and those in charge believe that the people of New Castle will not allow anything like this to happen. However, they must be more liberal with their contributions than they have during the past few weeks or this will come to pass.

One of the big sources of income of the Mayor's committee has been cut off, namely the contributions of city employes, who gave one day's pay during November and December. With the ten per cent reduction in pay which has been forced upon them, they will be unable to give any more to the Mayor's Fund. Approximately one-sixth of the amount contributed to date has come from this source.

FRENCH CABINET MEMBERS PLACE FAITH IN LAVAL

cision to strive for a government of broad concentration."

The action of the ministers was not a resignation, but left the Premier at liberty to act as he sees fit in ironing out the present cabinet difficulties.

Meets With Herriot

It was highly possible he would organize a new cabinet along much more radical lines than the present one. Laval conferred with Educard Herriot, radical leader, this morning, and was to meet him again later in the day.

Free to shuffle his cabinet, Laval faced the serious problem of whipping it into shape in time for handling the coming reparations conference at Lausanne and the disarmament conference at Geneva.

A man must be named to fill the post left vacant by the recent death of War Minister Maginot, and the foreign minister's post was a problem in view of the uncertain plans of Aristide Briand.

More than 7 1-4 inches of rain fell in 18 minutes on July 7, 1899, at Curtea de Weges, in Rumania, according to records compiled by Prof. Alexander McAdie.

FRANCE-BRITAIN MAY SEEK LONGER DEBT MORATORIUM

from Germany. If those funds are now to be no longer forthcoming, France and Britain must either find the money in their own treasuries or obtain further relief from Washington.

Congress Must Approve.

This relief can only be obtained with the approval of congress, for the administration itself is powerless to make any extension of the Hoover one-year moratorium. The Hoover moratorium expires on June 30 and congress is expected to adjourn a month before that date for the political conventions. Consequently if congress is to pass upon further relief it must be by June first.

The present temper of congress is strongly against any extension of the moratorium. Its approval of the one-year moratorium was reluctantly given, and with the warning that it would not look with favor upon additional moves in this direction.

If there is no extension, all of the foreign debtors automatically go back on a basis of payments to the American treasury after June 30.

Will Work Hardship.

In the case of Britain this will work a particular hardship because since the Hoover moratorium she has slid off the gold standard and the pound sterling has dropped approximately 25 per cent in value. As her debt to the treasury is payable in dollars this would compel Britain to pay about 25 per cent more pounds on her next installment than in her previous installments.. Britian's annual payments to the treasury run about $160,000,000.

The alternative to resuming payments next July, if congress does not grant further relief, would be to default—a step that Britain contemplates with dismay.

Sympathy For Britain.

There is considerable sympathy in congress for the predicament in which Britain finds herself. She funded her debt on higher terms than any of the other debtors and regularly made her payments without, as it is put in congress, "squawking". There is scant sympathy, however, for France, which has never ceased to protest against terms that were far more lenient than Britain's.

But the plain temper of congress at present is against any extension of the moratorium.

JAPAN WORRIES SOVIET RUSSIA IN MANCHURIA

formal visit to Premier Inukai to plead his case, and the Premier was said to have denied Japan's intention of aiding such a movement.

The Soviet ambassador cited reports that Chinese Eastern Railway guards at Harbin and Chinese troops were threatening to clash.

Hope To Avert Clash

Inukai replied that he was not informed of such threats officially, and that he merely hoped a clash would be averted.

Harbin, for the past several days, has been a scene of serious rioting between Red Russians, White Russians, and Chinese.

The Russian envoy's visit to the premier undoubtedly was partly due to the presence in Mukden of Ataman Semonov, noted White Russian leader, and his conferences with Japanese army officials there.

It was reported from Mukden that Semonov intended to work with the Japanese in making an independent territory of inner Mongolia. The Soviets, however, were concerned, apparently, with fears of a different sort.

Other matters were discussed between the statesmen, among them the Kamchatka fisheries rights.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks
Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes; "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."
Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.
For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., New Castle Drug Company, or any drug-store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S NEW TASK

COLONEL THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S appointment as Governor of the Philippines had been anticipated. His success in Puerto Rico deserved recognition. He went there at a critical time. Economic conditions were distinctly bad, and the present general depression would have made them much worse but for his energy and skill in dealing with the situation. Unemployment, a high death rate and an inadequate school system were among the difficulties he had to face. He leaves the island with a surplus in the treasury and with a notable development in agricultural methods, an important feature of which is the settlement of many small farmers on the land. Infant mortality and disease have been materially reduced.

His new task is one of wider scope, though perhaps less embarrassing. The retiring governor, Mr. Dwight F. Davis, has been a highly capable administrator. He has shown great tact as well as executive ability, and his going has awakened sincere regret. His place is hard to fill, but no one, it is safe to say, can fill it better than Colonel Roosevelt, who has become the type of colonial executive whose services are bound to be invaluable.

PENNSYLVANIA'S GRAVEYARD OF AVIATION

From Schuylkill county to Cumberland the low sweep of the Alleghenies have become a region of tragedy for aviators. Comparatively speaking, the peaks are not high.

Tuscarora and Bowers scarcely soar 2000 feet above sea level, though their altitude over surrounding valleys and treacherous ravines gives them a formidable appearance. Presence of fog often obscures their declivitous sides, and their heavily wooded character adds to the difficulty of escape once a flier is caught in their silvan meshes.

Now two women have been added to the aviation toil of this region. Both were experienced. On the eastward side Harrisburg is an important junction point for several air lines, where information on flying conditions is doubtless available for westbound and southbound pilots. Evidently a station west of the range for those coming in this direction is needed to supply corresponding advice. In any event it ought to be possible to impress aviators with the dangers which lurk at times in the Allegheny section of their course.

AIR TESTS FOR HEALTH

Through apparatus which automatically measures the records the volume of palpable air impurities New York manages to visualize on a chart the pollution of the atmosphere she breathes.

A month's experiment shows that the city air is least contaminated at 4 in the morning and carries the heaviest volume of dirt particles at 9 a. m., when heaters in domestic and industrial plants are being fired up. A second peak is attained at 7 in the evening, which suggests the possibility that domestic heating may have even more to do with smoke pollution than commercial consumption of fuel, except in the vicinity of railroad yards.

The health of the people being so largely dependent on the quality of the air they breathe, other large cities ought to be equipped with some such apparatus as New York has borrowed from the Stevens Institute of Technology and should employ it not merely to measure the volume of impurities, but to ascertain where correctives should be applied. Government experiments indicate that the quantity of carbon monoxide exhaled by motors is not sufficient to be injurious in the open air; but there are other and older spurces of pollution that require occasional attention.

Air tests are as feasible as water tests, and while perhaps not equally important to the public health, their results would be helpful to the establishment of safe-guards.

OUR INFERIORITY COMPLEX

In summing up his experiences in America, following a lecture tour over the country, Sir E. Denison Ross, archaeologist and director of the London School of Oriental Studies, said in New York the other day:

"The position of the visitor to America is peculiar. He has everything to learn and very little to teach to most of those with whom he comes in contact—for these know England and Europe just as well as he does. Nevertheless, he is treated as if he came from some wonderful fairyland, inaccessible to most. Now, why do you give us such a wonderful welcome?

"I am inclined to think the reason is to be found in just quite disingenuous hero worship. However unworthy or modest we may be, you treat us all as if we were somebodies."

Perhaps a part of the enthusiasm with which European visitors are acclaimed is due to our inherent "hero worship" as Sir Denison puts it, and at least a part of it is due to American hospitality and the desire to learn.

But the most remarkable paragraph in the British lecturer's statement is the following:

"I have traveled much and lived long years away from my native land, but only here have I found a people expecting to be adversely criticized. I have sometimes felt that the fact that I found so little to criticise has been a disappointment to my American friends. Personally, I find myself too busy bestowing praise on the many things I admire. I often wonder why so few people who can afford to travel come to America."

More than one foreign visitor coming to our shores has remarked on the attitude which many Americans assume of expecting and accepting criticism of all things American. Part of this expectancy may be due to the fact that it is realized most of the lecturers who come to America come to criticize, and to complain because we do not adopt European customs and traditions, and play Santa Claus to the world as well. And more of it may be due to the fact that our own internationalists have through their propaganda and publicity given us an inferiority complex so far as our relations with Europe are concerned. They have so consistently apologized for everything American, from George Washington's farewell address down to the refusal of congress to cancel all war debts, and have so consistently lauded all things European, that a great many people who have never been to Europe have caught the inferiority complex from their pro-European American neighbors.

And it is further true, of course, that a great many of the Americans who flock to lectures by European visitors are internationalists and European worshippers in their own right, which may somewhat color the American picture as the European visitor sees it. There are still in the United States a great many people who have faith in American traditions and in American civilization. They may not be as noisy as the internationalists but they are here in great numbers just the same.

All Americans of course want to give distinguished European visitors a cordial welcome and a respectful hearing. But to humbly await and even invite adverse criticism, whether it is deserved or not, permits us neither to respect ourselves nor to earn respect from our visitors.

Don't Depend on PEOPLE
Pack Your Own Load
It's Easier

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Once I depended on people. When I was in trouble I ran to them. I told them my worries. I asked them for advice. When they offered their help, I accepted it. . . . I leaned too much on people—and I learned, to my own heart's ache, that it did not work.

It never works. If you get into the habit of depending on other people, if you take too much from them, soon you begin to expect what they give as a RIGHT—and when they disappoint you, you are hurt and angry. . . . . They weary of you. The burden of your troubles on their shoulders becomes too great. They have troubles enough of their own, without the added burden of yours, and you become an irritation to them.

That habit of mine cost me too much, and I gave it up I learned, after more than one painful experience, that I could not depend on other people to carry my load. If they offered it, if they insisted, I let them put a little of their strength into my struggle, but I did not expect much, I did not expect it for long—and I was grateful. And when they went away, on their own business, I thanked them and did not expect them back. They'd done enough.

And now—usually—I refuse. I take a chance when I accept help. I feel that I take no chances at all when I refuse.

Is this bitterness? Is this a cynical way of looking at people?

I do not think so. . . . People are kind. People have generous impulses. People wish to help their fellows in distress. But human beings have definite limits.

I have a few friends who I believe would go far along the road with me, as I would go with them. But I would not ask too much of them. I would not expect too much. Why should I? Why should you—of YOUR friends? It is better to test your own strength, to learn for ourselves our own power to endure. Friends are good to have. Their sympathy and helpfulness give a man joy and make him feel that after all he is not entirely alone in the world, but finally must live by himself.

There are moments in the dark night when he is all alone and knows that he must hold fast to his own iron and follow his own gleam. And it is strengthening, then, to remember that though the entire world of men forsake him, he can upon his own self depend!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ROBBING GRAVEYARDS

A little fellow of some importance died in Egypt at the age of six about 3,000 years ago. He may have been the son or nephew of a king. He had his own flock of slaves to boss around, even at that age. When he died, he was wrapped in yards of fine linen, incased in a form fitting casket shell, decorated by artists, and sealed up in a rock in an Egyptian tomb, where what was left of him became a mummy about which archaologists might debate. Now they have taken him from his tomb, where his father and mother wanted him to stay forever, and placed him on exhibition in a glass case in the Brooklyn Museum. There folks view him daily whose ancestors were barbarian when he was a little boy bossing his slaves about.

Such an affair would be called now-a-days in the vulgar parlance of the street, "body snatching." The penalty for robbing graveyards in these United States is a drastic one.

Americans Study Finland's Referendum On Prohibition

Simple Method Of Action In European Country Viewed As Quite Different From Provisions In This Country, Where Similar Controversy Exists

Finland's decisive vote against prohibition is viewed with interest by Americans on both sides of the liquor question. While the popular vote is only advisory, the understanding in this country is that the national legislators will act is accordance with the expression of opinion at the polls. The ease of action, as contrasted with the constitutional requirements in this country, is stressed in the comments.

"Everybody in Finland is pleased except the smugglers, the moonshiners and the bootleggers," according to the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, which suggests that in the United States "their nefarious traffic has grown to such proportions that it is now counted as the fourth industry in size in the country." The Evening News believes that "open-minded citizens, with a sense of values, have come to regard prohibition, not as an asset, but as a heavy liability." The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR holds it is "instructive to American lawmakers" that the Rinnish parliament agreed that "even if only 40 per cent of the voters favored repeal, the government would modify the law on the ground that so strong a minority made the law unenforceable," which is interpreted by The Times-Star as "facing the facts of human nature."

"The United States alone among the nations," says the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS, "undertakes to impose the views of one part of the country on another." That paper declares that the "gesture now being made in the American congress for a vote on the subject" is "political rather than social, for both sides seem to be determined to put certain members on record before the congressions elections." Pointing to the lack of enough support to change the constitution ,The World-News concludes: "While experience indicates that prohibition is only practicable where there is a strong body of public sentiment back of it, the United States has not as yet been willing to recognize that fact by returning the matter to the states, and allowing each to decide for itself, with federal protection from interference by its neighbors."

"That the Finns are in a hurry to get back to wet conditions," in the opinion of the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "is indicated in call for parliament to meet this month, to make the vote of the people operative. The surprise is in the haste of the people to have the laws changed." Commenting that "Americans may envy the ease with which other countries, having had enough of prohibition experiences, correct the error and adopt such other forms of regulation as they desire," the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE points out that this country "remains as an example and admonition against the transfer of an enthusiasm into the most binding law the structure of the country knows." The GOSHEN NEWS-TIMES emphasizes that the change in Finland "will be a simple matter, for it may be accomplished by a simple vote in the Diet."

Taking a different attitude on the subject, the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION offers the explanation: "As had been explained before the referendum was held, the agitation was strongly influenced by the argument that the Finnish treasury desperately needed the income from an excise tax, which was recommended by the wets as a much better method than to permit such wealth to leave the country through bootleg channels. To that extent the prohibition issue has been disposed of on the strength of a more or less unrelated consideration. If balancing the budget should be made the final criterion for social legislation, there would be no limit to the type of law or license that might be legalized. Although Finland has decided to restore the sale of liquor, it does not follow that it is on the way to more wealth or prosperous conditions on that account. Money spent for alcoholic beverages cannot buy food and clothing."

Conceding that "majority rule is the practical and best way humanity has found for government," the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS states: "While the majority vote of three and a half million people, who have given more than a decade of time the experiment, is important, yet it must be considered first, that the decision is not necessarily right; second, that the conditions are not those which should greatly influence a nation of 123 million with different social conditions. The majority can be wrong. They may have been wrong when they voted for prohibition in the first place. It is manifestly still an experiment."

"Neither wets nor drys seem to be stating anything particularly significant about the result," in the judgment of the NEW LONDON DAY, which declares further: "Some peculiar alcoholic mist or chemical gas surrounds the prohibition question, absolutely incapacitating the mental processes of its friends and foes alike. More sophistry, distorted information, and stubborn disregard of perfectly apparent facts, have been engendered by the prohibition law, on both sides of the fence, than by any other question the modern world has dealt with."

"Aside from the Moslems, with their murderous dirks," remarks the GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE, "America now stands alone in its adherence to prohibition. It has selected a high and haughty seat atop the loftiest of the Himalayas. Its attitude and altitude are austere and forbidding. Its position is cold and benumbing. It has become the hermit nation of the world. We might be content to think that "they are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts," but such an innocent reverie is rudely shattered by the rat-a-tat-tat of machine guns, the rumble of beer trucks, or the lurching of children besotted with gin. Year after year conditions have grown worse, steadily and persistently worse. Since the first slight improvement following the war the trend has been straight down into the pit."

DIAGNOSIS

"H'm," says doctor, "nothing very wrong,
Chest clear, heart good and pulse exceeding strong;
Blood pressure normal, muscles still are spry,
Still I'd suggest you'd better give up pie.

"Tonsils are healthy, respiration firm;
I find no trace of any deadly germ.
The pictures prove no tooth of yours is dead;
Still I suggest you'd better give up bread.

"The spinal column shows no weakening sign;
I'll swear you eyesight is as good as mine.
You normally respond to cold and heat;
Still I suggest you'd better give up meat."

So to stay well I give up this and that,
Frown on the lean and scorn the oily fat;
Forego the starches, spurn the coffee cup,
And make each day one round of giving up.

What at the last when through the list I've run
And nothing else remains for me to shun?
Shall I, deprived of things I've relished most,
Just close the case by giving up the ghost?

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

BE A GOOD SPORT

Maybe you were too generous during the holiday season.

You spent more than your financial condition should permit.

You wished to impress your friends with your lavish gifts.

And perhaps this thought prompted you more than the love you were supposed to express in your Christmas gifts.

If you lost the Spirit of the Season you robbed it of its greatest joy.

And not only that, but if you have told the family that there will have to be some economy practiced because of what their gifts cost, you have taken from them the delight they might feel in your gifts.

If you have spent more liberally than you should, be a good sport and don't yet anyone hear you complain.

Don't let anyone hear you say you regret what you expended.

There is no pleasure in receiving a present and then hearing about how much it cost in money, and how little the donor could afford it.

Real sentiment should go with gifts.

To give happiness should be the object in giving.

None wants a gift that is known to have overstepped financial bounds.

Be sensible. Be just, before you are generous, and, having spent too much, be a good sport and keep it to yourself.

Necessity Of Vitamins In Building Resistance Cited By Dr. Clendening

A And D Food Substances, Both Contained In Cod Liver Oil, Required By Child, Especially During Winter

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Vitamin D is necessary for children and particularly so during the winter months. The vitamins are the substances in foods which though small in amount, have a powerful influence on the body's health. Of all the vitamins, the one labelled D is the least likely to be present in familiar food, and will need to be added artificially. The usual way to add it to the diet is to add cod liver oil, which contains large amounts. It prevents the development of rickets.

Cod liver oil also contains another vitamin—the one called A. Vitamin A, according to investigations, is valuable in building resistance to infections and colds. It is necessary for grown-ups as well as children.

Some authorities have ventured to call Vitamin A the anti-infective vitamin. There seems to be general agreement that when it is absent from the diet, increased susceptibility to infection is an early symptom. One of the effects of experimental omission of Vitamin A from the diet is a desquamation of the membrane of the upper respiratory tract. Perhaps it is this condition which favors the development of colds.

Vitamin A is found in milk and eggs. It is not destroyed by the heat of cooking. Under some circumstances the diet may become low in Vitamin A, perhaps due to the food of the animals from which its sources are derived. At any rate, it can always be obtained from cod liver oil. If you want to offer yourself as an experimental animal this winter, see if taking cod liver oil will lower the number of your colds.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. W. E. N.: "I have practically all aluminum cooking utensils and we have not felt any bad effects thus far. Some recent reports have caused me to fear the effects of aluminum. Can you give me any facts on the subject?"

Answer: The aluminum cooking utensil scare is one of the most absurd and fanatical ideas that was ever advanced. There is not one bit of evidence that food cooked in aluminum is harmful or causes any diseases. The correspondent asks for facts. The most important fact is that thousands of people have eaten food cooked in aluminum utensils for many years without experiencing any derangement of health. The aluminum fanatics say it is a cause of cancer. Yet the facts are that cancer occurs among people who have never seen or heard of, let alone used, aluminum, and that there is no high percentage of cancer among those who employ aluminum cooking utensils. Aluminum was not used for the manufacture of cooking utensils until 1892. There was plenty of cancer before that. In 1893 the Hygienic-Chemical Laboratories of the Freidrich-Wilhelm Institute of Berlin made some experiments in which they watched the health of two men for a year and a half: the food of these men was prepared exclusively in aluminum utensils; the men remained well and gained weight.

A. R.: "How long after a blow on the breast would a cancer be likely to start to grow? If, after a year, no certain symptoms are noticeable, could one assume there is no growth?"

Answer: Yes.

THREE TRAINS RUN OVER DOG; IT LIVES

LEETSDALE, Pa., Jan. 12. — According to William McCrea and Officer Roy Wilson, a small poodle dog was run over three times by trains here and still lives. McCrea saw a train pass over the poodle and tried unsuccessfully to drive it away before another train approached. Two other trains passed over the dog, McCrea said, before Officer Wilson snatched it from the path of the fourth. By way of reward the poodle snapped at Wilson's hand and ran away unharmed.

County Teachers Are Contributing To Relief Work

They And Superintendents Are Giving One Per Cent Of Salaries

In accordance with a resolution passed at the county teachers institute, teachers of the county, Superintendent John C. Syling and Assistant C. F. Ball, have been contributing one per cent of their salaries to aid unfortunate children in the different districts.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling stated this morning that in some districts, more money than has been contributed is needed, while in others there is a surplus. Where there is a surplus, the money is sent to the county superintendent's office, and is used in districts where the greatest need abounds.

There seems to be less distress in Scott township, than in any other part in the county, the greater part of the money contributed in Scott being paid into the county superintendent's office.

Committees have been appointed in every township and a close check is being kept on conditions. The money is largely used for providing shoes and clothing for children, whose parents are unable to properly fit them out for school.

SORE THROAT

There's a world of winter comfort in Bayer Aspirin tablets. If you take them only to break-up colds, you know only half the story. Three tablets crushed in a little water will relieve the sorest throat with one good gargle. That's what the specialists use in cases of sore throat. That's what you ought to use at home—every time you want throat comfort and protection from infection. Remember, every case of tonsilitis began with just a sore throat! Don't neglect any sore throat. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin at the first tickling felt. Take a couple of tablets for that headache that comes with a cold—for neuralgia, neuritis, or similar pain. If it's genuine Bayer, it can't hurt the heart.

DANDRUFF Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Aristide Briand Likely To Retire

Rugged Political Life Has Caused Failing Health For French Statesman

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Aristide Briand, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will probably retire temporarily from his rugged political life, International News Services learned Monday.

Failing health, brought on by the rigor of numerous conferences, has caused him to consider withdrawing from public life. Although he is at his office daly, he is under the care of a physician and is taking regular treatment.

Contrary to widely circulated reports, the great warrior never displayed signs of having suffered a paralytic stroke, International News Service was reliably informed.

Not until next Wednesday, however, will it become known definitely whether his resignation stands.

M. Briand's withdrawal from public activity will most likely be for several months. He has no intention of retiring permanently.

Dr. Mary Emma Woolley Gives Impressions On Being Named Delegate

United States Chooses Woman As Peace Emissary At Geneva

Liberal Student Of International Affairs Visions Lasting World Peace

(For the first time in history a woman will sit down with the leading statesmen of the world and take an official part in deliberations on disarmament.

In the accompanying article Dr. Mary Emma Woolley reaveals to Margaret Lane, star feature writer of the London Daily Express and guest writer for International News Service, something of her philosophy toward war and disarmament.)

By MARGARET LANE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1932, by International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—America has chosen a woman as her emissary of peace to the world; a woman who, being nearly 70 years old, has seen enough of wars and known enough of women to know that they at least are anxious for the laying down of arms.

It was raining despondently in Washington when Dr. Mary Emma Woolley came in from the street with a gust of cold air.

Her dark hair was beaded with rain and her face warm and pleasant with exercise; she looked a healthy 50.

Has Liberal Mind.

Dr. Woolley is the only woman delegate to the general disarmament conference in Geneva next month. President for many years of Mt. Holyoke college, and a liberal student of international affairs, she was nominated by President Hoover as one of the best minds to bear the burden of America's part in the world conference that is the first step towards the abolition of war.

Mary Woolley is no dreamer. Rather, she is an optimist, carrying in her mind a prophetic vision of a world where nations shall no longer wish to fight; where quarrels shall be settled with civility, and the wealth of nations set to civilize and enrich themselves, and never wantonly destroy.

Only Police Forces.

"It is logical to hope," she said, "that in the not too far distant future, the police force will be the only army of civilized countries. They will always need that, because one can never hope to abolish individual violence, but the need for destructive forces between nations will cease to exist.

"Man is no longer quite the fighting animal he was. The world is changing its mind about wars. The fact that 57 nations are willingly meeting together next month to discuss the advisability of laying down arms forever, proves that the old saying is no longer true, that the best way of preserving peace is being prepared for war.

"This world-longing for peace is the good and final fruit of the great war. Other things, of course, have contributed.

"And another thing . . . the advance of science and mechanical invention has recently been so gigantic that unless the nations evolve some method of controlling it, we shall all be committing suicide. At the present rate of scientific progress, it will not be long before armies in the air will be able to wipe civilization from the face of a country at one blow.

Predicts New World.

"There is no way of forcing nations not to fight. There is no superior power that can control them all; but I believe that the gradual change of heart in even the militarist countries—even in Germany, even in Japan—makes this an ideal time for discussing together, and resolving on the sheer common sense of living in a world where war is a horror of the past, and the riches of all countries are turned toward prosperity and peace.

"When do I think we shall achieve this new world?"

Mary Woolley looked away, weighing, perhaps, her maturity against the youth of the women to come after her.

"You may live to see it," she said gently. "I think that I shall not."

Says U. S. Not For Disarming.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Dr. Mary E. Woolley, only woman delegate to the coming Geneva arms conference, "does not properly represent the women of America, because a big majority of the women of the country will never be willing for America to disarm, while all other countries are under arms."

This declaration by Mrs. Noble Newport Potts, president of the National Patriotic council, during a Sabbath pacifist meeting here, rang out immediately after an audience of 2,000 had cheered the address of the president of Mt. Holyoke college.

During her address Miss Woolley sponsored a resolution calling upon President Hoover to give the American delegation to Geneva "a clear-cut and dractic program".

The resolution was adopted in spite of Mrs. Isabelle Farrington, who pointed out it was not "up to the delegation to tell the president what to do."

The Right Way to Reduce

If you are over-fat, do what doctors the world over now are doing. They supply a lacking gland secretion which helps turn food to energy, rather than to fat. The results are seen everywhere. Without starvation, multitudes of people have gained new beauty, youth and vim.

That right method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in every circle you see slender, happy people who can tell you the results.

Go do what they did. Ask your druggist for Marmola. A book in the box will tell you all about it. Take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal, and vim comes back. Start Marmola now.

Many Streams In State Are Safe For Fish

Only Third Of Mileage Is Contaminated, Sanitary Water Board Finds

AIM TO RECLAIM MOST OF STREAMS

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—The Sanitary Water Board has pronounced 65,000 miles of the water courses in Pennsylvania, fishable. In that mileage, it has been indicated that some 25,000 miles of streams are in a state of almost natural purity, and abound in fish life. The "B" group, has more or less pollution, but fishing is found to be fairly good in most of the 40,000 miles estimated length.

The remaining 35,000 miles of waterways in the commonwealth, fall into a classification designated as "C". These are the streams which are so polluted by industrial wastes or sewage, that it is not deemed practicable to try to restore them to a state of purity at the present time. Therefore it should be stated, that the Sanitary Water Board has not designated any streams officially as Class "C" streams; but obviously streams heavily impregnated with mine drainage or similar gross pollution, belong in fact to the latter group, and for that reason contain only a small amount of fish life.

The board aims constantly to reduce the mileage in this last group, with the ultimate object in view of bringing back all of Pennsylvania's streams to a condition where they will support fish life. This program invoives cooperative effort between the industrialist, the mine operator and the engineers of the Sanitary Water Board, all working together in an earnest effort to solve the problems that have developed.

Genuine progress is being made along reasonable and practical lines, and the current year now beginning, will see no let up in the efforts of all concerned to solve the problem of stream pollution, and reclaim as much as possible of the 35,000 miles of state waterways that now mainly carry this industrial pollution load. Sewage wastes can be cared for; some industrial wastes still baffle the skill of the chemical engineer.

Merchants Warned About New Racket

Man And Woman Operate $20.00 Bill Game In Pennsylvania Cities Is Report

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—Merchants of Pennsylvania cities today were warned by Inspector Frank R. Boyd to be alert for a new "racket." It works like this:

A man walks into the store, purchases a small amount of merchandise, presents $20 and receives his change.

A few moments later a smartly dressed woman walks into the store and asks change for a $1 bill. Then, she insists that she gave the clerk a $20 bill and demands change for it. She remembers, to identify the bill, that she has written the telephone number of a friend on it.

The clerk returns to the cash draw to find the marked $20 bill, which, however, the man had previously given him.

"Simple," said Inspector Boyd, "But it works."

Alleged "Sniper" Held By Police At Philadelphia

Man With Number Of Aliases Held By Police—Search Reveals Rapid-Fire Gun

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—A man identifying himself as Jack Batton, 28, alias Howard, alias Brenan, was held for questioning by police today following his arrest as a hit-run driver. Articles found in his possession led to be the belief that he is the "phantom sniper" who terrorized motorists in Southern New Jersey last summer, police asserted.

The suspect is alleged to have admitted he is the cyclist who abandoned his motorcycle last September after striking a woman here. The cycle was registered in the name of Jack Batton, whose home, according to officials of the Seaman's institute here where he is said to have lived, was in Brooklyn, N. Y.

A search of the man's rooms in a rooming house here revealed a pistol with a cap-gun device which propels bullets at a rapid speed and is soundless, police disclosed.

New York Banker Is Seriously Ill

Paul M. Warburg, 63, Chairman Of Manhattan Company Is Gravely Ill

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Paul M. Warburg, 63, banker, was gravely ill today as a result of an attack of pneumonia.

He contracted the illness last Friday, at which time he was recovering from a slight stroke he suffered shortly after he returned home from White Sulphur Springs where he had gone for a rest.

Warburg was said by his physicians to have over-exerted himself during the last year, when he worked strenuously following the European financial crisis. He did not take his usual summer vacation last year due to the pressure of his numerous activities.

Warburg is chairman of the Manhattan company and of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc. He was one of the organizers of the federal reserve system.

Erie County Is Almost "Broke"

"Zero" Hour Approaches For Erie County Unless Money Is Forthcoming

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 12—Erie county approached the "zero hour" in its financial tide.

County Commissioners, meeting here tomorrow, are expected to rescind the order of the 1931 board for a special election a week from today on an $800,000 bond issue.

At the same time, the commissioners admit that unless funds are obtained through a special bond issue, the county faces bankruptcy. Bonded indebtedness of the county is nearly $4,000,000.

Action of the board in calling off the election is based on the belief that it will be defeated and that the $6,000 which it would cost may well be saved.

Slippery Rock Has No Distress

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Jan. 12—Slippery Rock will be recorded in the history written of this great economic depression as one town in which there was no distress.

In response to a telegram sent him from Washington making inquiry as to the number of persons on the lists of the relief association Mayor George Heinman wired "We thank God, we have no poor." The wire continued 'We have some unemployed here but our community will not need aid from either the state or federal governments."

Inventors To Hold Meeting

Philadelphia Will Be Mecca Of Inventors From All Over World

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Inventors, men, women and even children, from all over the United States and Canada, as well as from many foreign countries, will descend upon Philadelphia for the third International Patent Exposition, to be held in this city from Feb. 1 to 10 inclusive.

The inventors include many who are noted internationally, and there will also be hundreds of lesser lights who have contributed materially to greater enjoyment of life. These latter facetiously referred to occasionally as the "gadet and thing-a-ma-jig men," will have a large representation at the exposition with creations which are, variously, unique, comprehensive and entertaining.

Hundreds will be on hand to personally demonstrate their devices to the more than a quarter million persons expected to attend the exhibition, which is showing in Philadelphia for the first time. Virtually every field of human endeavor is covered by the patents to be displayed of which there are many thousands. None of these ever has been placed on the market, however. All, with the exception of the foreign inventions, are protected by United States patents and this in itself is sufficient guarantee of their genuineness and worth.

As in other lines of endeavor, the field of science and invention has been successfully invaded by women, with approximately 700 inventions credited to 445 members of the so-called weaker sex to be exhibited.

Not for a Million Dollars

THE train swung around a curve. You can always spot the seasoned traveler, thought Clifford Burns, admiring his companion's deftness.

The older man paused in his packing and smiled. "I'll be glad to get home. Three weeks on the road this trip," he said to Burns. "Not that I haven't been home every night," he added with a chuckle.

"Home every night!" Burns exclaimed.

"Yes, sir! The minute the clock strikes 8:30, home I go by telephone. The whole family's waiting—I wouldn't miss it—not for a million dollars! Take it as a tip from an old drummer."

"You're right," said Burns. "I will, and thanks!" mentally adding, "Yes, you can always spot the seasoned traveler!"

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough due to a cold. It takes but a moment to mix, costs little, and saves money, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Printer's ink on the sand:

The stars who have sandwiches named after them at Reuben's never stop to notice that most of them feature HAM . . . Mrs. Duke Biddle is terribly blue because she can't afford an orchid house this year. . . . At $20,000 . . . Duck hunters along the eastern shore of Maryland pick up their skilfully bagged quarry to discover a metal band on each bird's leg: "Compliments of John J. Raskob." . . .

What's Tex Guinan going to do next? . . . She doesn't often desert Broadway for so long . . . I'll never forget the time Tex, presiding over the super-expensive El Fey club, decided she needed more of a class note and called Gloria Gould Bishop with the invitation: "Come over and bring your friends . . . It's on me, kid." . . . Gloria did, but the table Tex had reserved for six wouldn't serve . . . There were 27 friends in the party. . . . "So this is how it feels to be a sucker!" Tex exclaimed . . . "You win."

POOR FISH

The Aquarium is always good for half an hour's entertainment, if you have a simply inquisitive bent. That huge synoptic table setting forth the names of all the fish and their seasons for romance is worth a squint.

For example, visitors are informed that the female lobster hunts down the male in July and produces at least 10,000 eggs—but lobsters are not notably on the increase hereabout, because the life of a lobster egg is hazardous. And the equally absorbing information is on tap that the golden trout must await November and a temperature of exactly 48 degrees to feel the mating urge.

COMPARISON

The gaudiness of the movie cathedrals seems to have reached its high water mark, because no more super-salons are currently building. The auditoriums, which will be constructed for Radio City will be, I am informed, no more dizzily daring in decoration than some already up.

But every time I enter the Paramount I am reminded of Paul Morand's remark that the place is a blend of St. Peter's in Rome, the Parthenon and the Valley of the Kings. Not so complimentary was H. L. Menken's comment on one of the most breath-taking of the movie mausoleums: "It reminds me of a gold-toothed darky with his mouth open."

QUESTION

I had myself poked and measured and charted the other day for a new insurance policy. There were two examining medicos. One asked:

"Do you smoke."

"Yes."

"How much?"

Bored by the proceedings and to see what would happen, I replied, exaggeratedly: "Oh, four or five packs a day."

"I don't use tobacco myself," said the doctor, "but I should think you could get along on three packs a day."

The other one laughed, lighted a weed and went on with the questioning.

PLAYING SAFE

A customer sent the following note to his grocer: "Please send six dozen eggs; if good, I will send cheque." The grocer, however, was not doing any business on such risky terms, so he replied: "Send cheque; if good, I will send six dozen eggs."

Bright Outlook For Pottery And Glass Business, Is Seen

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—Improved business conditions for the glass and pottery industry were seen today with the opening of the annual manufacturers' exhibits here. Buyers and salesmen from all parts of the country and Canada hustled about in feverish activity.

In conjunction with the show, the Associated Glass and Pottery Manufacturers will hold a business session next week when new officers will be elected.

Citing the fact that glass and pottery stocks are low in the majority of stores in the country, C. H. West, President of the association, predicted the show will produce more business than last year.

The public, he said, is demanding new items and manufacturers are offering innovations in all lines. The Greater Pittsburgh district obtained $50,000,000 worth of glassware and pottery business last year, he said. He promised an increase in volume for 1932.

To Keep Close Check On Funds In Campaigns

State To Check All Election Expenditures In State During Year

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—A close check is to be made this year on campaign expenditures by the secretary of commonwealth. All committees, organizations, individuals and campaign groups that spend more than $50 to further the candidacy of any person for state-wide office will be required to file a report at the capitol.

The secretary of the commonwealth is preparing a letter to all state, county, city and ward political organizations together to be sent out with all requests for petitions for the state-wide offices warning them of the requirement to file expense accounts.

In recent years investigators of the United States senate have made more than one trip to the capitol for the purpose of examining expense accounts. These examinations disclosed that many accounts of campaign groups were not on file.

All state-wide committees in the past have complied with the law. Most of the violations have been on the part of local groups that fail to file expense accounts with the secretary of the commonwealth. The reports of the state-wide committees frequently show where money has been paid to local committees for campaign purposes but these groups many times do not give a further accounting of how the money is spent.

Walter Preston, one of the most popular members of the January class, will be seen in the coming play given by members of the senior class. His role will be that of Stanley Jackson, prominent Ashford citizen, the uncle of Diana Devereaux. But of course he changes his mind before the curtain rings down for the last act.

When the curtain rises on the first act of the senior play Thursday, Ruth Brenneman will make her initial appearance on the high school stage. Miss Brenneman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Brenneman of Garfield avenue. She enacts the role of Anne Jones, sister of Wilbur, the leading man. Anne is a sensible young girl and somewhat of a book-worm. She cannot understand why her brother is so much in demand. Every line she speaks and even the smallest action is absolutely spontaneous and dominated by Miss Brenneman's forceful personality.

Coal Officials Resume Session At Pittsburgh

Coal Operators From Five Big Western Pennsylvania Counties Conferring

SEEK TO CORRECT ILLS OF INDUSTRY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—Coal company officials representing interests which produce 70 per cent of the tonnage mined in Allegheny, Washington, Westmoreland, Fayette and Greene counties met today to continue discussion of their plans for establishment of a regional sales agency as a means of eliminating cut-throat competition in the industry.

Hal E. Booth, vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal company and chairman of the sub-committee studying the proposal, said the group after acquainting itself with conditions in the bituminous industry, would do all within its power to stabilize present conditions.

Sales Agencies.

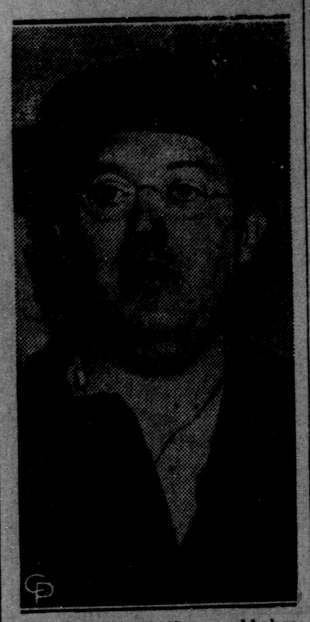

Establishment of a regional sales agency was one of the proposals made at a recent national conference of coal operators, held in New York last December 3.

Coal operators believe through setting up a regional sales agency many unprofitable workings can be eliminated and the price of coal so aligned with production costs that wages and working conditions may be stabilized.

Other sub-committees, representing coal companies in the five counties, will meet soon to apply locally the recommendations made at the national conference for alleviating the bituminous industry.

Japanese Suffer Heavy Casualties In Fierce Battle

Two Japanese Officers And 30 Soldiers Killed In Advance Toward Jehol

WOUNDED LIST IS QUITE HEAVY

Japanese Plan Extended Campaign In Region Invested By Chinese Bandits

By EDWARD HUNTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1932, by International News Service)

MUKDEN, Jan. 12.—Two Japanese officers and 30 soldiers were killed today when a cavalry detachment was virtually wiped out by Chinese irregulars in the second bloody defeat the Japanese suffered within three days in their advance toward Jehol.

Most of the survivors of the small cavalry unit, numbering about 70, were wounded, according to an official headquarters communique. They were attacked by a band of 1,000 Chinese at Hsinlitun, 35 miles north of Tahushan along the Tahushan-Tungliao branch of the Peiping-Mukden railway.

Twenty Killed Sunday

Four officers and 16 men were killed Sunday in a similar attack by 5,000 Chinese bandits.

The cavalry detachment was reconnoitering in the region when they were outflanked by the Chinese at a point 10 miles from Hsinlitun. The Japanese bravely fought off their attackers, the headquarters statement said, until they had battled their way to the town.

Plan For Campaign

Further reinforcements of mounted troops and artillery left Chinchow for Chinshi, where Sunday's attack occurred.

The Japanese planned an extensive campaign throughout the regions between Mukden and Jehol which will extend to "within the walls of Jehol" if necessary, army headquarters said, to clean out the bandits.

State Has Improved 32 Miles Of Dirt Road In County Since August

Since the State Highway Department of Pennsylvania took over the 20,000 miles of dirt road in the state, which was authorized by the general assembly in the regular session of 1931, Lawrence county has benefitted by about 32 miles, according to a survey made Monday.

Almost every portion of the county has received a share of the road construction and while it is not of a permanent type of surface used, it is such a type that on ordinary roads it will last for years with the proper maintenance.

Limestone and Oil.

For the most part the roads are of limestone chips and oil. Gravel has been used considerably in providing bases for the roads and after the limestone chips are in and rolled, a heavy coating of oil is put on as a binder. The average cost of such a surface is about $2500 per mile which means that upwards of $100,000 has been spent by the state since August 1 in Lawrence county on back roads in the townships.

The history of the 20,000 mile system over the entire state is similar to that in Lawrence County. It was estimated that 4000 miles would be built in the state in the fall of 1931 and that winter would prevent any further building. The unusual weather has permitted road construction in the winter months and the allotted 4000 miles for the state have been far exceeded.

In Lawrence county the work has been divided up as far as possible to give every township a little relief according to Roy Dickson, who is acting as superintendent of highways in this county while Superintendent H. F. Lightner is in the hospital in Pittsburgh.

Roads Improved.

The following list shows the locations of roads that have been surfaced with light type construction surface:

Vances' Cornes towards Volant, 2.7 miles.

New Bedford to Mercer county line, 2 miles.

North Beaver township towards Ohio line, 3 1-4 miles.

Route 470, from Moravia towards the Beaver County line, 1.3 miles.

Pulaski road, 4 miles.

Neshannock township line towards East Brook, 1 mile.

Outside village of Pulaski, 2 miles.

New Castle to West Pittsburg, 3½ miles.

Edenburg to Pulaski, 9 miles.

West Washington Street extension, 1 mile.

Edenburg to Ohio line, 1 mile.

Frew Mill road south 2 miles.

Plain Grove township to Mercer county line, 1½ miles.

Under construction 9 miles.

Not only are these roads getting the farmers out of the mud but they are providing relief in part for the unemployment problem. Approximately 150 men are being worked part time on the various jobs and with the return of weather that will permit oiling, more work will be pressed it is anticipated.

The program for the summer of 1932 will not be as extensive as it was hoped. The proposed 2 cent additional gasoline tax was to have been applied directly on such work and the force of men used in building the roads would have been doubled. With the failure of the law to pass, the program has been revised downward.

ANNIVERSARY COMING.

"Anniversary Week" for Lawrence county's Boy Scouts will bring a number of celebrations appropriate to an event of that kind, the Lawrence County Council office announced today. The council had made no definite plans whatever today but intends to commence them within a very short time.

February 7 to 13 will be the date for the anniversary this year, making the 22nd annual celebration to be sponsored by the Boy Scouts. The coming-of-age anniversary was observed in 1931.

A feature of last year's festivities was the Boy's Day program which brought the Boy Scouts into control in all of the city government's offices. It is not known whether such an event will be sponsored this year.

Some type of a program and exhibition is being considered for the anniversary this year.

Together with Scout Executive Herbert Horton, Scout Commissioner Ralph Davis and other executives of the county council, the Scout Leaders' club will cooperate to plan the anniversary affair. A committee is expected to be chosen soon to direct the arrangements.

HORTON AT SEMINAR.

Scout Executive Horton will return from Pittsburgh tonight, after the adjournment of the two-day Region Three seminar. Conferences of this sort bring together all the executives of Region Three each month.

UNION BOYS MEET.

Instruction in totem pole making was given to the boys of Troop 13 when they met at the Grittie residence in Union township a few nights ago. There were eight scouts present.

Pymatuning Track Changes Of P. R. R. In Drafting Stage

Road Has Launched No Actual Right-Of-Way Work; Must Alter Line

The Pennsylvania railroad has launched no actual work on the changes it will be forced to make to about two miles of its right-of-way south of Linesville because of the construction of the Pymatuning dam, the road's divisional office announces.

It was found necessary, after the reservoir plans had been drawn, to relocate and elevate the tracks at a height to a maximum of 12 feet. They will be relocated to border the Pymatuning Sc. New bridges are to be constructed over one or two streams.

Local divisional engineers announce that the Central region headquarters in Pittsburgh will handle most of the plans and actual work. The local office will assist the regional engineers.

The case of Stanley J. Urbonski, an undertaker of Toledo, O., against Joseph Aleyas, in which the plaintiff is seeking to collect a funeral bill of $464.30, is still on trial before Judge James A. Aleyas is refusing to pay the bill on the grounds that his wife was not living with him at the time of her death.

The case of John Baer against John E. Wyrie, over the sale of an automobile, is still on trial before Judge Hildebrand.

Stokowski Uses Mechanical Man As Music Critic

Mechanical Robot With Sensitive Ears Records Sounds Of Orchestra

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Leopold Stokowski, director of the Philadelphia orchestra, has sought a robot or "unemotional critic" for a true criticism of the playing of his famous orchestra, it was revealed today.

During every rehearsal, the director places "Oscar", the robot reviewer, in the gloomy recesses of the empty auditorium while he puts the musicians through their paces. The mechanical critic's report then is carefully scanned, for being truly impartial, it reveals the true defects, if any, in the rendering of the compositions by the various members of the orchestra.

Much mystery, however, surrounds the new critic for he is carefully guarded from the public. The robot resembles a man, although armless. His ears are the most important parts of this reviewer for they are twin recording microphones. They record the quality and clarity of tone of the orchestra's playing. And this report enables Stokowski to get a true idea of the ability and the playing of the members of the noted musical body.

GARDENER IS ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Andrew Fluto, of Locust street, gardener for the Hoyt property, who was struck by the machine of Jack White, of Hazelcroft avenue on New Year's Day, has been able to return home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mr. Fluto, who is about 60 years of age, was struck on Wilmington avenue, between Moody and Edison avenues.

Cleveland Police Stirred Up Over Attacks On Girls

Police Get Orders To Clean Up East 55th Street District Of "Hoodlums"

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 12.—Aroused over the continuation of the wave of attacks on girls and young women, police officials today ordered strict surveillance of the East 55th Street district where a 23-year-old girl was assaulted Sunday night by three youths as she was enroute to her home.

The latest victim of the terrorism, Miss Josephine Lokar, was badly bruised about the face by her assailants but she escaped more serious injury by fighting with the three youths until help arrived.

The arrival of a young girl and her escort on the scene put the youths to flight. Police arrested three boys a short time later who were believed to have participated in the attack.

Radio Crooners Are Denounced

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Radio crooners who sing "low down interpretations of love, whining and crying," stood vigorously denounced today by Cardinal O'Connell.

No man hearing such singing "would fail to be disgusted," the Cardinal told a thousand members of the Holy Name Society at Holy Cross Cathedral yesterday.

"The man who whines that way," he said, "well, he just isn't a man."

The Cardinal also denounced night clubs, "entertainment wildly pagan," certain features of the stage and motion pictures and cocktail parties in social life.

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 12.—A telegram from Senator James Davis making inquiry if relief organizations here were adequate to cope with the unemployment situation will be very soon stated John McCune, Jr., who is in charge of the Grove City Welfare Association.

McCune is of the opinion while the demand is growing each week for assistance that the association is backed with sufficent finances to handle the situation.

The telegram of the senator stated that before voting on relief bills he was anxious to know local conditions. This is the second year that the relief work here has been handled by McCune who is thoroughly well informed of the situation.

The plan is to require a deposit of between $200 and $300 suggested, that will be returned at the end of the year with interest if the firms remain that period in business.

The building will be ready for spring letting without a doubt.

Believes That Naval Strength Should Be Eve[n]

Admiral William V. Pratt, Chief Of Operations, Talks To Senate Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Strict naval equality with Great Britain was advocated before the House Naval Affairs committee Monday by Admiral William V. Pratt, Chief of Naval Operations.

"We should seek neither superiority nor inferiority with Great Britain but equality as is provided by the treaty," he said. "We are much the same sort of people."

Pratt explained a navy built to the limits of the London treaty would be cheaper to maintain than "drifting along" under the present uncertain policy.

Pratt reported both Great Britain and Japan are building new ships to keep up to the limit of the treaty.

County Employes Must Be Truthful

Must Tell Salary Board Of Mercer County How Many Days They Work

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 12.—There is a decidedly interesting angle to the return of the salary board of the county in their 1932 report and recommendations.

The board requires each employe of Mercer county to furnish at the end of each month a sworn statement of the number of days they have worked. Forms will be provided for making this return which [is] individual in county procedure. Each employe is to be given two weeks vacation on pay and each [is] allowed 15 days sick leave before the salary is stopped.

DOGS ARE LICENSED

Five hundred licenses were issued the first 48 business hours of 1932 at the office of Treasurer George Lawrence.

Dog owners are urged to secure tags at once.

HAVE GOOD RECORD

Mercer county was one of eight Pennsylvania counties with a school attendance record of 98 per cent for September last.

The Pennsylvania bureau at Harrisburg has issued a statement for this month showing the counties of Cameron, Allegheny, Elk, Luzerne, Montour, Pike, Schuylkill and Mercer to have this average.

The percentage is highest of record in Mercer county and is based on the attendance of 11,571 school children. The record shows ten schools in which there was a perfect attendance that month.

FEW BRIDGES CONTEMPLATED

County bridges and roads are in good shape. What the new board of county commissioners will do in the way of building, spring will develop, but so far as actual needs are concerned, 1932 could be a blank in construction work excepting of course for repairs.

With the present condition of tax payments no money will be spent for improvements.

Still, it's worth a lot not to hear conceited young asses bragging of the ten grand they made yesterday.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Woman Cites Her Terror Of Bedtime

Letter Discusses Problem Of Child Who Cannot Sleep

By GARRY C. Myers, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

A mother writes:

"Dear Dr. Myers: Although my children are married and have children of their own in whose upbringing as a wise grandmother I do not interfere, I look forward and enjoy every day your good articles. When I read the letter I am enclosing" (the one in which two mothers take issue with what I had once written about the child who comes to her mother's room at night) "it brought back so vividly my childhood days—the awful dread as bedtime neared, and the long prayers begging God to let me go to sleep. I was a quiet child, loved to read, my sister, only 18 months younger, played all day and fell asleep at once. We slept in one bed.

"Fortunately the mothers of those days spent their evenings at home sewing instead of going out to play bridge. I stood it as long as I could hear my mother at her work—I think she often dropped her shears to let me know she was still there—but as soon as I knew she had gone to bed my courage failed and it did not take me long to go downstairs, where I was always welcomed and made comfortable.

"I do not understand what the writer means when she says she was 'forced out of her room,' but I wish I could write as good a letter as hers and I wish, too, that I might know her, for I, too, have much sympathy for any child that is put to bed in a dark room, and I write this to tell you she did not exaggerate one bit. Hoping that you will keep on with your good work, I am, very sincerely——."

Answer: Please let me quote from the original article which stirred up the criticism: "Announce to the older child, when you are all set to carry out your program, that, beginning, say, tomorrow evening, she will not be allowed to come to your room. She may have the door ajar, even the light on dim in the hall, if she prefers, but she will have to stay in her own bed."

You see, the child would not have to stay in a dark room. Since the child referred to was five years old, I believe now I should have added, "even a dim light on in the child's room, if necessary," for I agree with you that the suffering by a child in a dark room must be terrible.

In that article, moreover, the case discussed involved a second child, one year old, who slept in the same room. This child would often awaken at night, getting considerable attention. I, therefore, suggested that the other child was doubtlessly suffering a great deal from jealousy, though no doubt, without knowing that she was. In your case, jealousy was probably a large factor, even though you were wholly unaware of it. Probably your mother did just the right thing for you at the time; but if she had foreseen your difficulties several years earlier, she might have worked out a program by which you would have escaped all the suffering you endured.

I am for preventing such suffering in children, if at all possible. It may be that may suggestion in the particular case referred to was not a wise one.

You good mothers have, indeed, raised some doubts in my mind. But of one thing I am convinced: children should learn not to go to their parents' room at night, since the habit grows and waxes into almost endless grief, by and by, for all concerned. I discuss the prevention of such fears in my pamphlet, "Fear". Many thanks for your letter.

Editor's Note: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear".

National Head Will Obligate V.F.W. Recruits

Big Ceremony Is Planned Here By McBride Post On January 22

MANY NEW MEMBERS ARE BEING SOUGHT

One of the most unique features in the history of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be carried out on January 22, when Commander-in-Chief Harold D. DeCoe, will obligate thousands of new members in a public ceremony.

Standing before a microphone in the National Press Club building, Washington, D. C., at 11:30 that evening, Commander-in-Chief DeCoe will pronounce the solemn solemn words, which will be repeated throughout the nation by recruits in the 2,500 V. F. W. posts scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land.

With their left hands resting on the Holy Bible and flag of their country, these new members will raise their right hand and repeat the solemn ceremony.

The McBride Post hopes to have one of the largest classes throughout the country to receive this obligation, and are now making arrangements for a public ceremony to be held here.

The membership drive of the post got under way last evening when a large group of members met in the Legion Home Association building to map out preliminary plans for the campaigns.

In addition to the ceremony by Commander-in-Chief DeCoe, there will be an address by Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, selections by the U. S. Marine Band, and brief talks by Mrs. Dora Raffensperger of Harrisburg, National Auxiliary president; Admiral Robert E. Coontz, Washington, D. C., Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief; and James E. Zandt of Altoona, Pa., the Floyd Gibbons of the V. F. W. and third ranking officer of the national organization.

Another meeting of the membership committee will be held on Sunday afternoon, when reports of the progress of the campaign will be submitted, and new prospects listed.

British Not To Parole Gandhi

No Parole For Indian Nationalist Leader Unless He Calls Off Campaign

BRITISH ARE QUITE FIRM

(International News Service)

BOMBAY, Jan. 12—Mahatma Gandhi will not be paroled unless he promises to discontinue his civil disobedience campaign, British government officials announced today.

It was not probable that the aged nationalist leader would call a halt to the campaign, which he and his followers are using as their chief weapon in their fight for Indian independence, simply to gain his freedom.

The government statement was issued after rumors Gandhi might be given a parole gained wide circulation.

Special Session Talk Is Louder At Harrisburg

Opinion Divided On Special Session For Unemployment Relief

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—Although the governor's office refused to affirm or deny the possibility of another special session of the legislature, the possibility continued Monday as a popular subject of discussion on Capitol Hill.

If such a session is called unemployment rather than attacks on the public utilities probably will be the official reason given for the move.

Republican leaders were strongly opposed to the convening of another extraordinary session, pointing out that the two special sessions which Gov. Gifford Pinchot called during his terms had cost the taxpayers of the state more than $1,000,000 and were barren of results.

Should the governor fix a date for convening of the legislature prior to the primary on April 26, legislative leaders are expected to recess at once until after that date.

Such a plan would allow members of the legislature to conduct their campaigns for re-election on home territory, rather than direct them from Harrisburg.

Winter Ailments Are Brought By Soft Living

"With all the aids to comfort that the average dwelling now possesses it is a line of least resistance to get into a soft manner of living. We eat soft food (to a more or less detriment of the teeth), we sleep in soft beds, we ride in softly cushioned automobiles and, in general, as city dwellers we live a fairly soft life. Pampering our bodies, luxuries are taken as a daily matter of course and the Spartan hardihood of the early days is something to read about, and nothing more. No better evidence of this attitude can be offered than in the average overfondness for heat in winter time" states Doctor Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health.

"Thousands of persons in Pennsylvania are missing the magnificent advantages that the fine winter days offer. Rather than step out briskly into the life-giving crisp atmosphere, they step up the heat to a sub-tropical temperature, spend as little time in the open as they possibly can and thus, figuratively hugging the furnace, get a devitalized body with its accompanying invitation to disease as thanks for their unwise affection.

"Colds, pneumonia and allied complaints are particularly attracted to the inmates of homes who thus inordinately love artificial heat and turn their backs upon the upbuilding possibilities of the winter's great outdoors. While it is true that hothouse treatment makes nice Easter flowers, it most decidely does not follow that it does the same for people. It might be well therefore to keep this fact seriously in mind for the balance of the winter. A little less coal, a little less money spent for doctors' bills, and a great deal more health are the natural results from stepping up to winter with a smile and giving him his due both inside and outside the house.

"While winter is here, why not make the most of it and get in terms of health and vigor what is so willingly will give if given half a chance to do so?"

VICTIMS OF BANDITS LOCKED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 12.—In a holdup at Manifold, two unmasked bandits entered the Frank Chunderlik home and at the point of a revolver took $68 and a watch, after which they locked Chunderlik and his son in the house and fled. Chunderlik is treasurer of a Slavish lodge. The money stolen represented funds of this society which Chunderlik kept in a cupboard. When the robbers entered one demanded, "where's that society money?" They threatened to kill Chunderlik if he left the house, and escaped in an automobile. County detectives and state police are investigating.

Ellwood Meets Monaca Tonight

Locals Hope To Turn Tables On Invaders At Lincoln Gym

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 12.—High hopes for a reverse of their luck is being held by the local high cagers when they meet Coach Berkman's Monaca passers at Lincoln gym at 8:30 this evening.

To date the Ellwood players have suffered five defeats out of six starts. Incidentally their opponents for tonight also have a not very impressive record. They have six games on the bad side of the slate out of seven.

Coach Lloyd has placed his cohorts through a hard session of scrimmage in the past few days and has given them important instructions to carry out. The team is in fine physical condition but is rather morally unbalanced. It is the general opinion that a victory under their belts would go a good ways in changing the attitude of the players. So they will thoroughly concentrate on tonight's contest in hoping to turn the tide.

The reserve squad of both teams will stage a preliminary at 7:30.

Ellwood Man Is Held In Theft Case

Claim He Was Driving Stolen Car Involved In Accident

Patrolmen J. A. Milson and M. D. Hoyman accuse Harper of stealing the automobile and Britten of driving the car which crashed into the car of F. A. Gibson, East Palestine, along the Darlington road, nearing the Ohio state line, injuring Harper. It was declared that after the collision in which both cars were wrecked, Harper and Britten left the scene before the officers arrived.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 12—Important matters received the consideration of the members of the Ellwood City Borough Council at their adjourned meeting last night in the city building.

The bond on the principal employees were as follows: treasurer—$2,000: Borough solicitor—$1,000: Borough Clerk—$1,000 and Borough Manager —$1,500.

The salaries of minor employees were also read. Upon a motion by Councilman A. J. Main, it was decided to postpone decision on this matter until a further meeting, before which time all members of the Council will have studied the matter and the previous salaries of all employees.

The various committees were urged to make their plans for the year and report to the finance committee so that work on the budget for 1932 may go on. It was hinted that it may be submitted at the next meeting.

Select Officers For Borough

Council Re-elects All Of Present Officials For Another Term

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 12—After two postponements the Borough Council finally disposed of the election of Borough officers for the year.

Previous to this meeting the council members had considered all applicants for various offices in the borough and therefore were prepared to act on the other. The various officers were elected following the recommendation of a committee which the council accepted by motion.

Lowell W. Monroe was reelected Borough manager for the years 1932-33 after a recommendation of the finance committee. An apparent fact was that all the old borough officers were re-elected. H. T. Plante was reelected Fire Chief upon recommendation of the Fire and Water committee; Robt. Henry and Harry B. Wolfe were reelecter as fire truck drivers.

The police department also remains intact with W. C. Morrison as Chief and the following patrolmen: E. R. Hartmar, James A. Hays, Chester E. Young, Edwin Clarke, Frank W. McDermott, Kenneth M. Musser and Darwin Braden, desk sergeant.

O. J. Learsch was elected to the Board of Health for five years and Louis Young was reelected as health officer for two years.

William Friedhoff was reelected as borough electrician upon recommendation of the Electric, Light and Gas Committee.

Following the election Council considered a recommendation of the Rules and Regulation committee which empowered the president to enter into a discussion and give advice on a topic after vacating his chair to another member of the council, until the topic in question is disposed of. It was finally decided that each member of the council be given copies of this recommendation so that they may thoroughly discuss it at their next regular meeting. It was also suggested that the Borough clerk mail notices to each councilman of a special meeting.

Upon recommendation of the Borough manager and Borough Solicitor, the Council decided to exonerate Steel Car Forge Co. from any assessments on the construction of the Second street viaduct and paving of said street, or any future improvements on this, on condition that the company would not bring damage suit against the borough.

Nearly Nervous Prostration

Do you know her . . . this poor woman who wakes up as tired as she went to bed?

Her head is still aching . . . her nerves are ragged . . . she's on the verge of tears as she faces another day of work.

"I can't go through it again . . . I can't. Oh, what is the matter? What shall I do?" she cries.

How many young women are fast approaching a nervous breakdown because they let suffering due to female weakness rob them of their strength and health.

In offices or in their homes, they drive themselves, working "on their nerve." Hoping against hope that tomorrow they will feel better . . . but instead they become more and more prostrated.

It is a double tragedy because it is so unnecessary.

It brings soothing, comforting relief . . . gently corrects through its strengthening tonic action the cause of the headaches and backaches that wear you out. Drives away the awful lassitude that kills ambition and makes life a burden.

This simple, safe remedy has justly earned its place in the Family Medicine Cabinet.

MORNING AFTER USING, RED ROUGHNESS GONE

RED, CHAPPED HANDS healed—OVERNIGHT —or your money back

THIS famous medicated formula—Noxzema, the cream that heals—has already worked wonders for the hands of over 6,000,000 women. In 8 hours—overnight—it has improved red, rough, chapped hands beyond recognition.

Let Noxzema beautify your hands the same easy way. Doctors prescribe it and even nurses use it themselves. Why? Because Noxzema's softening balm and soothing medication actually heal the tiny open wounds of chapped, broken skin. That's why it makes hands that are badly chapped, even cracking, so much whiter, smoother, softer—overnight.

See for yourself! Tonight apply Noxzema on your hands at bedtime. This feathery, white greaseless cream is stainless and quickly absorbed with very little rubbing . . . Tomorrow morning you'll feel the sore, rough redness healed away—your hands lovelier by far, white and girlish and appealing.

If not—return the jar and you'll get your money back. Fair enough? Then start the Noxzema beauty treatment for hands tonight. A blessing for housewives! They use Noxzema after washing dishes and exposure to cold, as well as at night. And remember, the hands that use Noxzema are the hands that men admire.

Tri-State Floor Teams Swing Into Stiffer Opponents

St. Francis At Westminster And Grove City At Allegheny Tonight

Pitt And Duquesne Will Play Wednesday—Tri-State Conference Is Fast

Some right fancy basketball games are going to be played in the Tri-State district this week. Some important ones are on tap this evening.

The Tri-State Conference teams have not started to tear after each other yet, but they are getting warmed up and when they do tangle, well, some fine floor contests ar lookd for. Unless my correspondent has eye-trouble, Bethany, Geneva, Grove City, Waynesburg, Thiel, Westminster will have some fur-flying engagements ere it comes time to award the bunting to the champions.

Duquesne, Allegheny and Carnegie Tech outside of the Conference loop have fine teams this season. Pitt also is playing good basketball, but still too high-hat for the minor conference teams. Maybe some other day.

Grove City-Allegheny

Temple from out in the Eastern end of the state will be at Pittsburgh tonight for a battle with Carnegie Tech. Grove City and Allegheny will have a private argument up at Meadville. The Grovers after that hair-line finish against Westminster the other night are all pepped up and they may get the starch taken out of them tonight. Waynesburg and Geneva will be having a little conference game all to themselves down in Beaver Falls.

Up at New Wilming' the strong St. Francis quintet will stack up against the giants coached by Johnny Lawther. The Titans are rarin' to get going on the right track. That Grove City setback was hard to swallow, but Captain Phil Rice and his team-mates will be out tonight to try for vindication. You can't be wrong all the time.

The highlight of the week will be at Pittsburgh Wednesday night when Coach Chick Davies takes his Duquesne University team to the Pitt Stadium for a battle with the famous Panthers. This a muchly talked about game in the Smoky City and the fans are sure to want to see it. The Dukes have waited a long time for this opportunity. Until Friday night these are the only important games listed.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

New York Giants displayed the mailed fist in dealing with Bill Terry, star initial sacker and the first of the Giants to become a 1932 holdout. Terry declared he is disgusted with a proffered contract that called for a 40 per cent reduction from last year. The contract was returned to the Giants. Within four hours from the time of its receipt President Stoneham notified Terry to sign the contract at the figure the Giants considered fair or remain out of organized baseball. Coming on top of the announcement that the Cards had attempted to chop Hack Wilson's contract from $32,500 to $7,500, the new situation was fraught with significance.

Slippery Rock Teachers continued their winning streak by defeating St. Francis last night 38 to 21 at Slippery Rock. The Teachers leaped into a lead shortly after the game started and were never menaced.

J. W. Shillan, British sportsman, will arrive in New York sometime today to issue a challenge for the Colonel Green $5,000 trophy race, an outboard motor event scheduled for Miami Beach, March 18 and 19.

MacDonald Smith, veteran golfer, yesterday captured the Los Angeles open championship for the third time in seven years when he covered the 72 holes in 281 strokes, which is three under par.

Senior A And Senior B To Open Inter-Class League At High School

Three Contests On Wampum Court

Three contests will be played tonight on the Opera House floor in Wampum, Pa. The Wampum Merchants will oppose the Polish Falcons in the feature attraction of the evening.

In the initial contest the Merchant Reserves meet the St. Phillip and St. James quintet. The Reserves will be after their Seventh consecutive victory. The second tilt will bring together the Merchant B team and the Harvey A. C. combination of Beaver Falls. The first game starts at 7:15 o'clock.

Eph Solomon is directing the plans for Agenda's re-entry into the sports. He will have charge of the team's organization.

Terry And Stoneham In Contract Battle

New York Giants Need Terry And He Will Not Be Traded Or Sold

Heavy Hitting First Baseman Is Independent—Will Not Take Salary Cut

By LES CONKLIN,
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Bill Terry, big gunner of the New York Giants, today had stolen the thunder of Babe Ruth, batting king of the Yankees, in New York's annual holdout warfare.

Ruth's demand for another $80,000 contract from Col. Jacob Ruppert involves approximately four times as much cash as the salary squabble begun yesterday between Terry and Charles A. Stoneham, president of the Giants. But the Terry case is likely to make more noise.

Babe and Jake, both extremely good natured, cannot get really mad at one another and their financial arguments always are settled more or less peacefully under the mellowing influence of a few beers. The controversy between the temperamental Terry and the business-like Stoneham, however has started with fighting words.

Terry Disgusted

The Giants' first baseman, in his opening blast from his home in Memphis, announced he was "thoroughly disgusted" with Stoneham's offer, believed to call for a forty per cent slash from about $24,000 to $15,000 a year. Stoneham replied Terry had made trouble for the Giants every year by holding out, although he received "thousands of dollars more than other great National League players".

In answer to Terry's request to be traded to another club, Stoneham declared he would not trade or sell Bill, but would force him to stay out of organized baseball. The New York club once carried out a similar threat against Ed Roush.

Giants Need Terry

Terry would bring a fancy sum on the auction block, but the Giants need him. Sam Leslie, Bill's only available understudy, is a good hitter but a poor fielder.

Terry won the league batting championship in 1930 with a mark of .401 and missed winning the crown last year by a fraction of a point.

There has been bad feeling between Terry and the management of the Giants for some time. Execution of Stoneham's threat to make Terry quit baseball would not put Sweet William in the bread line, for he owns a string of gasoline filling stations in the south.

Sluggers Find Baker Bowl Is Hard On Homers

Big League Ball Pasters Hit Only 89 Homers At Philadelphia Park

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Sluggers found the range for more circuit hits in the two New York stadiums, Shibe Park, and Sportsman's Park than Baker Bowl, which was thought to be the homer paradise of the major leagues, figures for the 1931 season show.

Despite the fact that Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the Yankees tied for the individual home run title, with a total of 46 each, there were more circuit wallops at the Polo Grounds than at the Yankee Stadium. The total was 129 at the home of the Giants and 119 at the Stadium.

The figure at Shibe Park was 97, while the American Leaguers batting in Sportsman's Park clubbed 90. The Nationals at Baker Bowl pounded out 89.

The total of home runs for the 1931 season was 1,069, as compared to the record figure of 1,565 established the previous season.

The drop was most noticeable in the National League, with the new ball. The sluggers of the Heydler loop scored 493, failing by 399 to reach their figure of 1930, which was 892. In the American League the loss was only 97, a drop from 673 in the previous year to 5476 in 1931.

Terry Refuses Salary Offer

New York First Baseman Refuses To Take 40 Per Cent Reduction In Wages

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 12.—Bill Terry, New York Giant first baseman, Monday spurned an offer for renewal of his contract next season at a 40 per cent reduction in salary.

Terry said he returned the contract unsigned to President Charles H. Stoneham and asked that he be traded or sold to another club.

In a telegram to New York sports writers, Terry explained his position as follows:

"Mr. Stoneham asked me last fall not to give the newspapers any information regarding my contract this spring, as the club would take care of me. Inasmuch as I do not agree with them the approximately 40 per cent cut is taking care of me. I am giving you this information along with the information that I am thoroughly disgusted."

Theater Party Is Enjoyed By Girls And Their Guests

Eighty Girl Reserves Of Senior High And Boy Friends Have Party

Eighty members and guests of the senior high school Girl Reserve club had a theater party last night followed by a dance and the serving of refreshments in the Y. W. C. A.

It was an interesting affair, and an important one, as boy friends of the club girls were the special guests of the evening. The annual boys' night is, as always, a much talked over feature of the Girl Reserve social events.

They met for the theater at about 8 o'clock, the crowd accompanied by several members of the Girl Reserve advisory staff. After the show they went to the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium which was prettily decorated and special music was furnished for dancing and games. Sandwiches and hot chocolate were served in the Green Room.

Winter Rides Into Canada With Fury

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 12—Riding out of the west on a wind that reached blizzard proportions, winter came into western Canada in a fury Monday. Traffic was halted over a wide area of Saskatchewan and Manitoba and communication was disrupted.

The gale started in Saskatchewan Sunday when a high wind from the southeast whipped across the prairies, mowing down power lines and halting traffic on provincial highways. The towns of Pilot Butte and Balgonie, in southeastern Saskatchawan were left without light or electric power.

First point in Manitoba to feel the force of the storm was Westbourne, 70 miles west of Portage La Prairie. Snow was blown into huge drifts which forced bus lines to abandon schedules.

Forecasts indicate much the same conditions for the prairies today with even colder weather.

NIGHT SESSIONS POLICE COURT ATTRACT CROWDS

Standing room is now at a premium at the midnight sessions of police court, which have been inaugurated by Mayor Charles B. Mayne for the purpose of disposing of all such cases as can be at that time. The spectators have been largely disappointed up to the present time, if they go expecting a thrill and exciting testimony, as there has not been so far in the present administration, anything of an especially startling or interesting character.

County Borrows For Department Of Poor

Certificates Of Indebtedness Issued For $20,000 By County Commissioners

County commissioners have negotiated a loan of $20,000 for use in the county poor department. Certificates of indebtedness for the money have been issued to a local bank. It is payable on or before July 1, 1932. If the commissioners should get any money under the Talbot bill, passed by the last legislature, the loan will be paid before maturity, otherwise it will likely run to July 1.

The constitutionality of the Talbot bill is called in question, and it will require a court decision to determine if the money can be legally paid out to the different counties of the commonwealth. Lawrence county's share would be in the neighborhood of $180,000 if the money is distributed. This amount would see the county through in fine shape, if received.

If it is not received it will be necessary for the county to negotiate another loan. The $20,000 borrowed will meet the expenses for about one month.

Man Caught With Two Big Knives

Charles Smith, Negro, 311½ Preston avenue, was a member of the police court class this morning as a result of attempting to carve up a Negro alleged to be bothering his wife.

"I've heard of two gun men" remarked the mayor as he looked over Smith and two butcher knives that had been in his possession when arrested, "but this is the first time I ever heard of a 'two knife man'. However, they're not much good and you'd have had a hard time trying to carve that other fellow, Kennedy, if you could have caught him."

Smith told a story of causing the police but little trouble, and Chief Horner stated that his reputation was good.

"We believe that you don't cause much trouble" remarked the mayor "but we can't overlook an offense of this kind. The fine is $5 with the alternative of five days in the county jail."

Smith was hunting the money to pay this afternoon, hopeful of keeping out of jail.

Governor Roosevelt Forced To Recommend State Tax Increases

New York's Governor Forced To Suggest Tax Boost Despite His Wishes

Says Credit Of State Is Best In World, Budget Given Legislators

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt recommended that taxes on personal incomes, gasoline and stock transfers be doubled, and that license fees for heavy motor trucks be tripled, to wipe out a state deficit of $124,418,000 in his executive budget message to the 1932 legislature today.

Roosevelt was forced to suggest higher taxes just at a time when he is being mentioned repeatedly for the Democratic presidential nomination. He had to do it to offset the deficit and balance the budget.

Credit Is Good

The Democratic governor gave his budget in which he called for a new leadership in the nation. He pointed out that while his estimates of state revenues for the current year fell off about 30 per cent, "federal revenue is expected to show a decline of nearly 50 per cent."

He reiterated that New York state's credit is the best of "any government in the world".

The governor's gross budget is $323,231,000, a decrease of $17,162,000 from last years' total appropriations. His requests for appropriations for operating the 18 state departments total $291,291,000, a drop of $16,642,000 from what it cost to operate them during the current fiscal year.

Sands Commences Work As Assessor

Formerly Worked As Chief Assessor; Will Draw $1,620 First Year

Andrew Sands, elected assessor for the city of New Castle by council Tuesday, was sworn into office yesterday by Mayor Mayne and has embarked on his duties. His salary for the first year will be $1,620. Sands succeeds Bion Cover who drew $1,800 annually. The difference between the salaries is caused by the 10 percent reduction ordered for city employes.

The present assessor formerly worked as the chief assessor for the city. He requested an increase of salary and when no agreement was reached he failed to make application for the position and Cover was named to the job. Sands was elected this week upon the recommendation of Albert Hoyland, director of accounts and finance.

Gibson Speaker At Lions' Session

Auto Man Makes Address At Meeting At Noon — Court Discussed

"The Automobile Industry Today" was the subject of the timely address Jesse H. Gibson, local automobile sales manager, delivered before the Lions club at their luncheon in the Elks club this afternoon. Gibson is a member of the club.

"Nine million of the 23 million cars operating over American highways today," Mr. Gibson related at one point in his speech, "are due for replacement at this moment. They have depreciated in usefulness, value and in a way constitute a menace to road travel."

He told them that this would not be the case were business normal. However, he declared that the buying power is lacking. He spoke encouragingly of the influential industry."

City Solicitor Robert White spoke in favor of the drive for the appointment of New Castle as a federal court district just before Mr. Gibson's address.

Guests today were James C. Bracken, Greenville, and P. G. Dingledy, local business man. The club voted Dr. R. G. Campbell into its membership.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Market Moves To Higher Price Level

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—All sections of the stock market moved into slightly higher prices in the first period today, but the road to an extended advance was blocked by liberal offerings of stocks by professionals and outside traders.

Recoveries of 1 to 15 points in a long list of the market favorites since Thursday presented inviting opportunities for profit taking all along the line. In spite of this profit-taking and professional short selling the market held steadily, with numerous railroad and specialty stocks forging ahead to the best levels on the move.

Southern Pacific, New Haven and New York Central led the activity in the popular rails. Nickel Plate sold today at 9¼, which compares with the December low at 2¾.

Adoption by the Senate of the reconstruction financing measure was enthusiastically hailed in Wall Street. Reports from the automobile show were better than expected, the attendance increasing 30 per cent over last year.

At the best prices of the forenoon United States Steel was up a point at 43¼; American Can up ⅜ at 62⅜; American Tel and Tel up a point at 119½; J. I. Case up ⅞; New York Central up ¾; Auburn Auto up 1½; Baltimore and Ohio up a point and New Haven up 1. Liberty and treasury bonds sagged to the lowest prices on the move, while rail bonds scored further moderate advances. Call money was unchanged at 2½ per cent.

CREDIT RELIEF BILL IS SENT TO HOUSE BY SENATE FOR APPROVAL

Norris, Republicans, Bratton, Bulow, Connally, McGill and Wheeler, Democrats. Senators LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin, Black (D) of Alabama, and Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, were paired against the measure. The House will pass it by Thursday. The President should get it by the week end.

The bill would set up a huge government corporation for extending credit to certain financial institutions and railroads. Banks, trust companies, insurance companies, agricultural credit corporations, mortgage loan companies, and joint stock land banks were named as specific beneficiaries. The Senate attached a "rider," appropriating $50,000,000 for direct loans to farmers.

Land Bank Bill

While the House continued debate on its own measure the Senate began consideration of the Land Bank bill. This measure, which has passed the House would add $125,000,000 to the capital of the Federal Land banks, to permit more generous credit to the farmers.

A real battle was fought in the Senate over extending loans to cities and states, the Senate first approved state loans but later eliminated them. After refusing loans to cities.

Loans to individual citizens were refused.

The Senate debated the subject of placing restrictions around the seven directors, who will handle this tremendous fund. It finally adopted the old war finance corporation rule, forbidding any director to vote on any loan in which he might have a personal interest. Some Senators denounced this as "too weak."

As it passed the Senate, administration leaders predicted it would set up a credit structure strong enough to end the depression. Its opponents countered with the charge it would merely add to the government's deficit and make Uncle Sam "hold the bag" for banking losses.

House, and in so doing stated that he knew of no American retiring from public service "with such a sense of affection and devotion of the whole people."

The announcement was simply made by the publication of two brief letters—that of Justice Holmes to the president, and Mr. Hoover's response.

The letters follows:

"Mr. President:

"In accordance with the provision of the judicial code as amended. Section 260—Title 28, United States Code 375, I tender my resignation as Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States of America. The condition of my health makes it a duty to break off connections that I cannot leave without deep regret after the affectionate relations of many years and the absorbing interests that have filled my life. But the time has come and I bow to the inevitable. I have nothing but kindness to remember from you and from my brethren. My last word should be one of grateful thanks. With great respect,

Your obedient servant,
OLIVER WENDALL HOLMES"

The reply:

"My Dear Mr. Justice:

"I am in receipt of your letter of Jan. 12, tendering your resignation from the supreme court of the United States. I must, of course, accept it.

"No appreciation I could express would even feebly represent the gratitude of the American people for your whole life of wonderful public service from the time you were an officer in the Civil War to this day—near your 91st anniversary. I know of no American retiring from public service with such a sense of affection and devotion of the whole people.

Yours faithfully,
HERBERT HOOVER."

WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE, LEAPS SEVEN STORIES

continuously since her return from Paris last September.

She had dinner last night with Mrs. Eugene Stevenson, a friend of five years and about 11 o'clock both retired.

About 3 a. m. Mrs. Stevenson was awakened by the sound of furniture being moved. She called out but received no answer. Arising, she found Miss Fisher was not in the apartment. Looking out the window she made out a figure huddled on a one-story roof below.

Found Alive

The superintendent was notified He found Miss Fisher, alive but unconscious. She died within two hours.

From a diary and letters found in Miss Fisher's room in the Gladstone, something was learned of her past. The diary was kept for the years 1930 and 1931, with notations about various stocks. There were frequent references, too, about drinking.

Two letters, unsealed and unstamped, lay on a bureau. Both were to friends in Paris, and both revealed her melancholy over the economic situation.

Ran Away From Home

Although gowns of expensive materials were found in her wardrobe there was not even a penny in her purse.

Police learned her father is George M. Fisher, living at the Hotel Ogden. He said:

"I have not seen by daughter for fifteen years. She ran away from home when she was 16 or 17 and I haven't seen her since."

MORE PICTURES IN SLAYING OF HAWAIIAN YOUTH

Above is a view of "Koko Head," the water geyser known to all tourists who visit Hawaii, and where police say the slayers of an Hawaiian native intended to dispose of his body. The body, that of Joe Kahahawai, below, was found in an automobile in which authorities say were Mrs. Granville Fortescue, socially prominent American, her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas Massie and E. J. Lord. Kahahawai was one of five Hawaiians accused of attacking Massie's wife, at the right.

Father Cox Was Reticent Boy, Says Local Woman Who Recalls Childhood Days In Pittsburgh

As a youth Rev. James Cox, pastor of Old St. Patrick's in Pittsburgh, was quiet, reserved and somewhat different from his playmates of the district located not far from the edifice which in later years was to grace Shantyland and attract long bread lines of hungry and unemployed.

A New Castle woman who as a little girl romped the streets of Pittsburgh's Lawrenceville district tells about the reticent Jimmy Cox in the early days before he was ordained a priest. She is Mrs. William A. Frazier of 430½ Neshannock avenue, wife of a P. & L. E. engineer.

Many of today's leading citizens of Pittsburgh are products of old Lawrenceville, the Penn and Liberty avenue district east of downtown. Here still stands the staid old homestead of the city's famous composer of plantation melodies, Stephen C. Foster, and the alleys and lanes recall many happy times to some of the city's leading executives and professional men and women.

Jimmy Cox was raised on 44th street, Mrs. Frazier, who, as little Catherine Norris played with him on the streets of Lawrenceville recalls from memory. The Norris family home was only a few blocks away from the Coxes, on 39th street, near Liberty avenue. Mrs. Frazier remembers Jimmy's mother, the former Julia Mason.

"He was always quiet and studious and we believed he would grow up to be a somebody," Mrs. Frazier said.

Jimmy received his earliest schooling at St. Mary's parochial school. Catherine Norris went to a city public school not far away from St. Mary's.

Mrs. Frazier especially remembers that Jimmy made frequent visits to the Cavanaughs of Davidson street, where many young people of the district met. The Norrises were also friends of the Cavanaugh's.

Father Cox began in early years of his priesthood to display his ability with people. When he took charge of Old St. Patrick's, Pittsburgh's oldest Catholic church, the membership had dwindled because the district, not more than a few blocks from the busy down town streets, had begun to attract merchants. The church soon found itself in the center of the city's produce center. Another Catholic parish near St. Patrick's had moved to the Squirrel Hill district.

Father Cox remained in the old location to build up his parish, until his followers had increased in number and the church had a strong membership. In recent years he has taken an interest in the unemployed of Pittsburgh and daily feeds hundreds who form long lines. Over 600 homeless men sleep in the church basement nightly. Shantytown, a collection of homeless men's shacks, is situated next to the church, and Father Cox is mayor and undisputed leader of the little colony.

Mrs. Frazier has continued her friendship with Father Cox throughout the years and both tell stories of early days whenever they meet.

The recent "march" to Washington revived friendships. Margaret Norris, a sister of Mrs. Frazier, was one of the women who worked tirelessly to make the event a success by helping with the preparations. She supplied the unemployed with hundreds of sandwiches. Regis Larkin of Pittsburgh, a nephew of the New Castle woman, was a member of the parade.

One Of Claimants To Reward, Dropped

One of the claimants for a portion of the reward offered for the capture of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, murderers of Corporal Brady Paul, Mrs. Lee Wright, has been dropped from the list of claimants, owing to her death recently at Phoenix, Arizona. Mrs. Wright was the wife of Lee Wright, who was killed during the pursuit of Irene and Dague.

Directors Compile List Of Salaries

Directors of the various city departments today were engaged in the compilation of salaries as paid to city officials and employes.

The lists will be presented to Solicitor White, who will compute the new salaries, effective February 1, owing to the 10 per cent cut.

As soon as the new salaries are compiled an ordinance will be introduced and adopted making the new rate of pay effective February 1.

Mayor's Committee Given Donations

During the past few days, the Mayor's Relief Committee has been able to purchase a quanity of clothing and food stuffs at prices which practically amounted to a donation.

W. M. C. Drake of Volant has given 200 bushels of apples to the committee, which will be added to the daily supply of the baskets, as long as they last.

A large quantity of clothing was given the committee by Axe and Brenneman for just a few dollars, which practically amounted to a donation. This was all new clothing.

Mayor's Fund Receipts Larger

Contributions Are Far Below Amount Needed To Carry On Work, However

Although today's contributions to the mayor's relief fund were much larger than yesterday, they were far inadequate to carry on the work as it has been. Approximately $200 daily should be pouring into the coffers of the committee. Today's contributions totalled but $49, bringing the total amount given to date to $6,635.67.

A general appeal for funds is to be again issued, as it will be impossible for the committee to carry on the work if there is no money in the treasury.

Edmunds To Continue Grave Registrations

County Commissioners have reappointed Thomas Edmunds to register graves of soldiers in the county. Edmunds was originally appointed a short time before the beginning of the year. The registration of all soldiers graves is necessary under a recent act of the legislature. A copy must be filed in the county commissioners office and one with the state department.

CHARGE SOME NEWSPAPERS GIVE UNREASONABLE PUBLICITY TO PROHIBITION WET SIDE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Prohibitionists' charges that newspapers give "outlandish and unreasonable publicity to the wet side of prohibition" was made Monday in the senate.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa spoke after attending a committee hearing on the Bingham beer bill at which four more advocates of the measure were heard. Opponents will not testify for several weeks.

The senator said information "very innocently" came to him a few days ago that the Anti-Saloon league and other dry societies had refused, or neglected, to buy spate in the newspapers and that the papers had turned against those organizations and organized "a sort of 'racket' against them."

He did not name his source, but warned if the press did not clear itself of the charge a congressional investigation might be asked.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Snapshots around the city. A bull dog on West Wallace avenue, barking at the front door like a book agent . . . kids using Arlington avenue for a roller skating rink . . . students of Westminster College thumbing their way out North Jefferson street back to school . . . that chap who insists upon going bareheaded all winter long . . . the last bit of Christmas decoration on a pole at the corner of Washington and Mercer . . . the apostle of cheer who is a bell boy in The Castleton . . . the new automobiles in the windows . . . well that's enough of that sort of thing for today.

Bob Taylor dug up a relic some time ago. Seems that years ago when he had more than one shirt, he kept them in a box up in Mercer. He brought the box to New Castle with him when he came and not so long ago his wife cleaned out the old papers which lined it. One of them was a section of the Pittsburgh Dispatch of January 31, 1911. The section happened to be the sporting section.

The lead article on the page was an account of the victory of Tony Ross over George (Kid) Cotton in Union Labor Temple, Pittsburgh. The account goes on to relate that Ross pounded the negro fighter considerably in six rounds of battling.

Fred Clarke was still managing Pittsburgh's ball club then, Clark Griffith was managing Cincinnati, Fred Tenney the Boston outfit, and Roger Bresnahan managed St. Louis. "Pete" Porter was given his unconditional release from the New Castle O. & P. team at his own request to follow religious work. And here is the pay off, there is a cartoon on the page showing that indoor golf was being played.

Give the wife a treat Sunday afternoon. Instead of that weekly matinee nap, take her up to the Cathedral and hear the concert by the New Castle Civic Orchestra. Those critics who long have argued that we should have a municipal orchestra of some kind are answered, the New Castle Civic fills the want. Now let's show them we appreciate them by turning out for their first concert.

They have some real musicians on the roster, they have been whipping the outfit into shape for weeks, now they are ready. No admission but if you think it is worth anything you can daub a piece of change in the collection plate and this goes to the Mayor's Relief Committee.

Excavation Grants Bring City $280.25

Six hundred and forty-one deeds were recorded at the city registry department during 1931, according to a report delivered recently by Municipal Engineer Miller to council. The receipts of the department amounted to $999.10.

The receipts were realized from excavation permits, $280.25; sale of blueprints, $20.10; sale of city maps, $41.75; granting of building permits, $137; curb pump licenses, $250, and paving plans for which the city charged $160.

Lost Hat Is Cause Of Two Appearing In Police Court He Says

Police court class Monday consisted of three drunks. Two of the number appeared to be old timers in police court and one claimed friendship with the mayor.

Said No. 1 to the mayor, "I didn't expect to come in front of you so soon."

"Well you didn't wait long," replied the mayor. "Do you think you can sober up without two or three days on the hill?"

"Yes sir," was the reply.

"All right, you may go" said the mayor, "but if you don't, we know what to do with you, to sober you up."

"Back again" remarked the mayor to prisoner No. 2.

"Yes sir" he said, "but it's all a mistake, sir. I wasn't drunk. I wouldn't be here, if he hadn't lost his hat (referring to No. 1).

"Well the report here states you were drunk," explained the mayor, "and all the officers here are experts on drunks and its hard to believe that you are here just because the other fellow lost his hat. You've been coming too many times. Better stay away."

"You're starting early" said the mayor to No. 3. "Straighten up and get to work, if you still have the job that you had. I know you are not bad and are willing to work. Stay away from this stuff."
